

TIME
THE WEEKLY NEWSMAGAZINE

Approved For Release 2002/05/09 : CIA-RDP80B01676R003900010004-7

14-108
TIME & LIFE BUILDING
ROCKEFELLER CENTER
NEW YORK

December 23, 1958

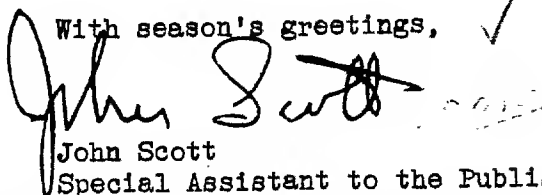

Dear Allan:

Since returning from Africa in October, I have been at work on a report on that huge continent. The completed job ran to some 75,000 words, and the checking of the figures and references and the editing of the opus are going to take several weeks more, particularly as I am pretty heavily involved with other activities.

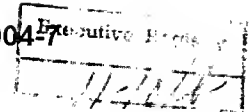

In view of this Jim Linen thought it would be a good idea to get out some interim notes, including some reflections and conclusions now and send them off before Christmas, leaving the body of my country-by-country observations until later.

This we have done, and both of us hope that you will find the attached pages interesting and useful reading over the holidays.

With season's greetings, ✓

John Scott
Special Assistant to the Publisher

Approved For Release 2002/05/09 : CIA-RDP80B01676R003900010004-7

19 JAN 1959

ER

Conf
Mr. John Scott
Special Assistant to the Publisher
Time Magazine
Time & Life Building
Rockefeller Center
New York, New York

Dear John:

Thank you for your draft "Africa--World's Last Frontier" which reached my office in late December. I enjoyed reading it and profited from it.

I feel that it gives a sound analysis of situations which are matters of growing international concern.

Africa is increasingly a target for the Communists, and accordingly I was especially interested in your comment on this subject. We are particularly glad to get information on tropical Africa and appreciate having your impressions.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

Allen W. Dulles
Director

OCI/AA/ [] :ca/14 Jan 59
Rewritten: G/DCI/AMDulles:ca 19 Jan 59
Distribution:
Orig - Addressee
1 - DCI
1 - DDCI
1 - EDI
1 - CS/FWA
2 - AA Div.
1 - AAB
1 - ER

11 21 1959

EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE

S

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Comments on John Scott's Draft
"Africa--World's Last Frontier"

1. Attached is a short draft reply which we would propose be sent to John Scott.

2. We consider Mr. Scott's discussion a useful presentation of the problems of Africa with more analysis and fewer tourist-type impressions than is generally contained in this type of presentation. African developments in the next few years may be even more difficult to cope with than this rather thoughtful paper suggests.

3. After some introductory comments which include geographic and historical data, Mr. Scott proceeds to discuss contemporary Africa in a systematic manner. He recognizes the overwhelming problems created by past and present colonialism. He also sorts out the various approaches used by the several European powers in their dealings with African problems.

Mr. Scott devotes considerable attention to an examination of the difficulties which independent African states face. He notes their staggering economic problems, their lack of trained personnel, their disorganization and the elements of disunity.

The Moslem faith, Trade Unions, Democracy, Nationalism, and Communism are all given realistic treatment. Mr. Scott recognizes the potential appeal the Communist line has for Africans. He feels that possibly dedicated nationalist leaders at the head of strong monolithic political parties might be, in part, an immediate answer. Mr. Scott closes his paper on the note that Africa needs Western capital and know-how and that a peaceful "partnership" ought to be developed.

4. Mr. Scott's draft is quite readable but still needs some factual checking. An assortment of specific examples follows:

a. Page 1, paragraph 4: "About 98% of all Africans are Hamites, Semites, Bantus and other dark-skinned peoples...." We believe that the text should differentiate between the Hamites and Semites who are viewed as being of Caucasian origin, i.e., "White" and the Bantus who are Negro.

b. Page 3, paragraph 1: Africa produces probably less than 20% of the world's uranium, not "a large part of it." Also, the continent's petroleum potential is not "enormous" on the basis of what we know today, even when the sizeable oil field in Algeria is taken into account.

c. Page 3, paragraph 6: The French have not been pushing the Africans steadily toward self-government. They have reluctantly conceded additional political powers to the Africans under considerable nationalist pressure.

d. Page 3, paragraph 7: It is open to serious question that the Kenya settlers have lost much of their determination since the Mau Mau uprising.

e. Page 9, paragraph 1: It is doubtful that Britain considers Zanzibar and Gambia to be strategic strong points. London usually does not consider independence for these areas because of their small size.

f. Page 11, paragraph 2: Municipal elections were also held in Jadotville.

g. Page 23, paragraph 3: Native labor unions are not "outlawed" in the Union of South Africa, they merely are not legal entities and therefore do not have the legal rights of recognized unions.

h. Page 23, paragraph 6: On the importance of trade unions re Communism the point should be made that in some areas such as French West and Equatorial Africa, Communists have used the OUI's ties with African unions to gain influence and to infiltrate the colonial areas.

i. Page 24, paragraph 5: The statement that "where we have bases, I found people much less enthusiastic and sometimes hostile" may be misleading. Antagonism toward the US in Morocco, particularly in extremist nationalist circles, springs mostly out of local disapproval of American policy vis-a-vis Algeria rather than from any dislike of the American presence in Morocco. Likewise in Ethiopia, we have no information that the United States is disliked because of our base.

Distribution:

Orig & 1 - Addressee
1 - DDCI
1 - CS/FW 1 - ExReg
2 - AA 1 - DDI
1 - AD/CI

Attachment:

(Draft Letter to J. Scott)

Assistant Director,
Current Intelligence

Orig: OCI/AA/AF

10-11-58

Mr. John Scott
Special Assistant to the Publisher
Time Magazine
Time & Life Building
Rockefeller Center
New York, New York

Dear John:

Thank you for your draft "Africa--World's Last Frontier" which reached my office in late December. I enjoyed looking it over.

It is written in a lively style and contains much sound analysis of situations which are a matter of grave international concern.

It is clear that Africa is increasingly a target for the Communists, and accordingly I was especially interested in your comment on this subject. We are always interested in information on tropical Africa and appreciate having your impressions.

Sincerely yours,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

Distribution:

Orig & 1 - Addressee
2 - DCI
1 - DDCI
1 - DBI
1 - ABCI
1 - CS/FWA
2 - AA Div.

ER 11-10/a

Mr. John Scott
Special Assistant to the Publisher
Time Magazine
Time & Life Building
Rockefeller Center
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Scott:

In the temporary absence of Mr. Dulles,
I should like to acknowledge your letter of 23 December.

Mr. Dulles is expected back in his office on 5 January and when he returns, I shall be glad to bring your letter to his attention.

Sincerely,

O/DCI: [redacted] jnf 30 Dec 58

Dist:

Orig - Add.

✓ 1 - AAB Hold File
w/Basic

[redacted]
Assistant to the Director

STATINTL

CONFIDENTIAL

AWD/Fmc
15/CPC
Executive Registry
11-10-11

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Comments on John Scott's Draft
"Africa--World's Last Frontier"

1. Attached is a short draft reply which we would propose be sent to John Scott.
2. We consider Mr. Scott's discussion a useful presentation of the problems of Africa with more analysis and fewer tourist-type impressions than is generally contained in this type of presentation. African developments in the next few years may be even more difficult to cope with than this rather thoughtful paper suggests.
3. After some introductory comments which include geographic and historical data, Mr. Scott proceeds to discuss contemporary Africa in a systematic manner. He recognizes the overwhelming problems created by past and present colonialism. He also sorts out the various approaches used by the several European powers in their dealings with African problems.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

Mr. Scott devotes considerable attention to an examination of the difficulties which independent African states face. He notes their staggering economic problems, their lack of trained personnel, their disorganization and the elements of disunity.

The Moslem faith, Trade Unions, Democracy, Nationalism, and Communism are all given realistic treatment. Mr. Scott recognizes the potential appeal the Communist line has for Africans. He feels that possibly dedicated nationalist leaders at the head of strong monolithic political parties might be, in part, an immediate answer. Mr. Scott closes his paper on the note that Africa needs Western capital and know-how and that a peaceful "partnership" ought to be developed.

4. Mr. Scott's draft is quite readable but still needs some factual checking. An assortment of specific examples follows:

a. Page 1, paragraph 4: "About 98% of all Africans are Hamites, Semites, Bantus and other dark-skinned peoples...." We believe that the text should differentiate between the Hamites and Semites who are viewed as being of Caucasian origin, i.e., "White" and the Bantus who are Negro.

b. Page 2, paragraph 1: Africa produces probably less than 20% of the world's uranium, not "a large part of it." Also, the continent's petroleum potential is not "enormous" on the basis of what we know today, even when the sizeable oil field in Algeria is taken into account.

c. Page 2, paragraph 6: The French have not been pushing the Africans steadily toward self-government. They have reluctantly conceded additional political powers to the Africans under considerable nationalist pressure.

d. Page 3, paragraph 7: It is open to serious question that the Kenya settlers have lost much of their determination since the Mau Mau uprising.

e. Page 9, paragraph 1: It is doubtful that Britain considers Zanzibar and Gambia to be strategic strong points. London usually does not consider independence for these areas because of their small size.

f. Page 11, paragraph 2: Municipal elections were also held in Jadotville.

g. Page 23, paragraph 3: Native labor unions are not "outlawed" in the Union of South Africa, they merely are not legal entities and therefore do not have the legal rights of recognized unions.

h. Page 23, paragraph 6: On the importance of trade unions re Communism the point should be made that in some areas such as French West and Equatorial Africa, Communists have used the CGT's ties with African unions to gain influence and to infiltrate the colonial areas.

i. Page 24, paragraph 5: The statement that "where we have bases, I found people much less enthusiastic and sometimes hostile" may be misleading. Antagonism toward the US in Morocco, particularly in extremist nationalist circles, springs mostly out of local disapproval of American policy vis-a-vis Algeria rather than from any dislike of the American presence in Morocco. Likewise in Ethiopia, we have no information that the United States is disliked because of our base.

Assistant Director,
Current Intelligence

Attachment:

(Draft Letter to J. Scott)